“ Blanca was the nicest person, I remember her as a young lady always laughing. She would brighten a day when you were down and as I visited after I moved away I would stop by for a visit and her strength and trust in Jehovah to carry her through all the rough times always left me built up. I would stop to encourage her and I think I left there being the one that was encouraged to keep on pluggin along. It has been several years since I could visit but I will always admire the strength she had even though she was bed ridden.

My deepest Sympathies to the family left to mourn her loss, but soon very soon we will welcome her back as the bouncy delightful person she was!
