“ I am Francine's Daughter Marilyn. Life with my mom was always busy and learning. This is women that was born in Francine during the war. She and her family went through a lot of pain with all the stuff the Germany's did to them. But even with all they went through she met the man she fell in love with and his daughters. Life after retirement was moving and see the world. The family just kept giving both Jim and Mom Gran-babies and great Great Gran-babies. We will all miss you. We love you.

“ When I first met my Dad's future wife, they invited us to Francine's apartment in Seattle to a dinner she was preparing for us. When we arrived there were fire trucks and an ambulance and as we walked up the sidewalk she was being hauled to the ambulance on the gurney! She said" Hi I'm Francine! I caught the kitchen on fire!" We always laughed about that.
