January 21, 1928 - September 7, 2019

Cashmere, Washington

Leslie Edwin Barnett, 91, Longtime Cashmere resident, passed away peacefully at his home on Saturday September 7, 2019 surrounded by his loving family.

Les was born on January 21, 1928 to James and Marion (Plumb) Barnett in Seattle, WA the second of four children. Les' father worked for the Great Northern Railroad as a station agent requiring the family to move often until finally settling in Cashmere in 1940.

Following his schooling Les went to work for Great Northern Railroad working in the electrical shop. It was during this time he enlisted in the Army National Guard achieving the rank of Sergeant First Class before being honorably discharged in 1953. Upon his fathers' sudden death in 1950 Les moved back to Cashmere to help his mother raise his younger sister. In 1961 Les went to work for the City of Cashmere as a lineman and remained there until his retirement in 1987 as the department foreman.

In early 1968 Les met Sandra Kay Murphey and was immediately smitten with her and her 6 year old son Dan. On November 9, 1968 they were married and became a family.

Les was an avid hunter and fisherman and loved to take his family camping on weekends and spend summer vacations camping in British Columbia, Alberta and Friday Harbor in the San Juan Islands. During the winter months they often joined friends snowmobiling in the surrounding mountains. In 1977 they bought a lot on Fish Lake, soon after he built a second home from the ground up where he and Sandy loved spending time. He was a lifetime member of the Cashmere Sportsman Association, past member of the NRA and member of the Cashmere Volunteer Fire Department.

Les was an excellent machinist and after his retirement he spent many hours in his shop fabricating specialized tools, airplane parts and helicopter parts for close friends and anyone else who had a need. One of his greatest joys was the 1946 Willys jeep he restored over several years. He loved taking his grandkids for jeep rides around town when they were visiting.

Les will be remembered for his kindness and generosity along with his willingness to help others.

Les is survived by his wife Sandra of the home; son Dan (Heidi) Barnett of Litchfield Park, AZ; grandchildren Garen (Jessica) Barnett of Selah, Riley Barnett of Mesa, AZ and Haley Barnett of Selah; great grandchildren Mason and Landon Barnett of Selah; Sister Myrt Jackson of East Wenatchee; along with many nieces and nephews.

“ I live in Cashmere and work in Wenatchee, moved out here from Philly PA in 2005. I have always walked down to the bus stop near the high school or fire station and encountered Les walking in the early mornings for several years. It always amazed me how he would walk on ice/snow etc. and keep his balance when he was 30-40 years older than me and I couldn't keep up! After awhile of seeing each other in passing we started talking and introduced each other, putting names to the faces. Several years later I recall him telling me that his family was worried about him and didn't want him walking anymore. I missed seeing him every day, no matter what season/weather. My only regret is that I didn't get to know him any better save for the small tidbits we'd exchange each day in passing on the street. It's funny I saw this obit as I was just thinking about him the other day wondering what he was up to. Thank you Les for all of the hellos and chats along the way. RIP. Francesca Hansen
