

Patrick Wayne Green

July 28, 1960 - January 14, 2024

Patrick Wayne Green was born on 7-28-1960 and suddenly passed away in his home on 1-14-2024.

Patrick was a loving husband for 23 years, a father, and one of the hardest-working men you could meet. He worked at Tree Top as a sealer for 15+ years. He loved his football, especially the Steelers. He would turn games on no matter what teams were playing, but especially his team. He was a star football player at Blair High School in Pasadena, CA for his team and was well known everywhere for his smiles, personality, and giving ways he would give his last dollar to help others at times. He loved to BBQ and cook amazing food, specifically his fried chicken and pork chops, and tried to cook those greens like his sister and mama. I never had leftovers go to waste I used to call him the human garbage disposal and he never wanted anything to go to waste and hated to throw food away he enjoyed his beer, sports, and making bets with some of his closest friends even some at work even though they weren't supposed to make bets there. He has 13 children and now 19 grandchildren. He will be greatly missed by all his family and friends his celebration of life will be planned at a later date.

“ Watching football you can't help but think of Patrick! I worked with Patrick at Treetop, I can honestly say he was the most kind, compassionate, giving man. He always left you with a smile. Rest easy my friend 💙. My condolences to his wife and family.
