“ Although we never got to meet Bob in person, as Sandy's friends and classmates, we experienced Bob's core essence in many moments through Sandy's words. We learned of Bob's essence as loving, supportive, joyful, abundant, and tremendously valuable. Through her words is where Bob's essence met ours, where we were touched by his light. Thank you, Bob, for shining your light bright enough to reach beyond your immediate relationships and into our lives. In the truest sense, your essence remains immortal, enhanced by the experiences of this lifetime, and firmly bonded with those you love and who love you.
