

Russell Scott Maydole

November 17, 1964 - October 4, 2013

Russell Scott "Russ" Maydole, 48, a seven year resident of Cashmere, passed away on Friday October 4, 2013 at Central Washington Hospital. He was born in Wenatchee on November 17, 1964 to Norman and Carolyne (Schooler) Maydole. He was raised in Lake Stevens where he attended school and graduated from Lake Stevens High School in 1982. His youth was filled with outdoor adventures of hiking with his parents and beloved dog, Joey, rock hounding, horseback riding, traveling vacations in the family motor home and seaside visits at the ocean. His love of the outdoors carried over to his career of landscaping, where he owned his own business, Earth Artistry, until 2006 when he moved back to Cashmere where his parents lived. His son Brett remembers his dad's love of planes and that every Sunday he would take them to the Arlington Airport to look at the planes, and then they would go the café and get "Big Cookies".

He is preceded in death by grandparents, Gilbert & Betsy Maydole and Joseph Schooler.

He is survived by his children, Justin Maydole, Lake Stevens, WA, Brett Maydole, Cashmere and Rachel Vaughn, Lake Stevens, WA; parents, Norman and Carolyne Maydole, Cashmere, WA; grandmother, Johnnie Schooler, Wenatchee, WA; and grandchild, Deacon Vaughn, Lake Stevens. A memorial service will be held at a later date. You are invited to view his online guest book at www.HeritageMemorialChapel.com. Arrangements are in the care of Heritage Memorial Chapel, Cashmere.

“ Russ always made us feel appreciated at family gatherings in Wenatchee/Cashmere. We have very good memories of Russ and feel the loss and the pain associated with losing our loved ones to our common enemy death. We wish we had Russ with us right now, but will wait for the resurrection hope to be fulfilled! We are praying in your behalf, Norm and Carolyne

“ Russ taught me so much about nature, and tried to teach me about WWII-era aircraft! (That wasn't my thing.)

Besides those interests, I think of his enjoyment of photography, cooking, history and learning. He was a good cook, specializing in old family-favorite recipes, and he was always interested in learning new things.

What Russ most loved, however, was his family. He was so proud of his kids, always. And he loved spending time with his parents and extended family whenever he could.

I remember so many happy times spent with Russ -- taking the boys to youth soccer or football games (although I missed the BIG game when Justin's team won the championship), camping out at Fish (??) Lake, pigging out on mushrooms after a big day of mushroom hunting, volunteering at Brett and Justin's school, taking the boys to Alfy's and trying to get them to eat BEFORE they attacked the video games -- all sorts of good stuff!

Russ was the best dad, son and friend that he could be, and I'll miss him forever.
