

Skyler Jonathan Ronald Miller

February 24, 2003 - January 30, 2026

Skyler Jonathan Ronald Miller was born on February 13, 2003, in Wenatchee, WA, and passed away on January 30, 2026, in Snohomish, WA, aged 22 years.

Skyler passed away far too soon, leaving behind family friends, and many others whose lives were touched by his big heart and genuine spirit.

From an early age he showed a strong will, a hardworking nature, and an unwavering loyalty to the people he loved. Skyler believed in working hard and living a life with purpose.

He dreamed of living off the grid and building a simple, self-sufficient life close to nature. Skyler admired independence and the freedom that comes with living life on one's own terms. He was someone who valued resilience, self reliance, and the quiet strength that comes from providing for oneself.

Skyler was also deeply patriotic. He loved his country and strongly believed in the values it represents. He carried a deep sense of pride in being an American and had a desire to serve and stand for something greater than himself.

Those who knew Skyler knew how deeply he cared about the people in his life.

One of the many memories his father will always hold close is a simple exchange that meant so much between them. Skyler would ask, "Hey Dad, you good?" his father would answer, "Yes, son. Are you?" Skyler would follow with, " I am. Would you tell me if you're not?" It was a small moment, but it reflected the genuine care Skyler had for those around him.

He is survived by his mother, Cara Miller; father, Johnathan Schober (Lisa Davies); siblings: Gerritt, Caitlyn, and Xavier Miller and Cecilia Schober; grandparents, Tammi Miller and Leland Vanderpol; grandmothers: Diane and Chris; along with many other family members, friends, and loved ones who will carry his memory with them always.

Though Skyler's life was far too short, the love he gave, the loyalty he showed, and the kindness he carried in his heart will never be forgotten. He will be remembered as a hardworking young man, a proud patriot, and above all a good soul who always made sure the people he loved knew they mattered. Skyler will be forever young, forever loved, and forever remembered.
