East Wenatchee, Washington

Terry Osborn, a Father, a Son, and life-time adrenaline junkie - passed away on Wednesday, January 5th 2022, in Wenatchee Washington. He was 62 years old.

Terry was born in Spokane, WA on June 25, 1959, to Linda and Donald Osborn. He attended high school in Roseburg, Oregon and college at Southern Oregon University.

As a kid Terry was very active and loved sports. He played football but had a real gift for the game of Soccer. He bounced around a bit and eventually settled down in Wenatchee, WA in the 1980's where he would later have two sons.

As an adult, Terry became a phenomenal bowler and wheelman. He mastered the sport of bowling having multiple perfect games and is also remembered as a legend at the WWSO racetrack, racing over 40 years driving the iconic red #46 with flames. Terry was fun-loving, he enjoyed boating, snowmobiling, and attending sporting events.

Later in life you could find him alongside his longtime girlfriend and love of his life Stephyne Silvestre, showing off his 1964 Mercury Comet at car shows across the northwest. He had more love in his life than a person could hope for. He loved laughing and having fun with Stephyne's granddaughters Brylee and Addison Skalisky.

Terry had a huge heart and his niece Kimmy Parker meant the world to him, taking her to see him race from the time she was a baby. Terry was a loving father, a caring son, and lived his life to the fullest.

Terry is survived by his children, Trevor and Trenton Osborn of Wenatchee, WA; his sister Brenda Lilley of Eugene, OR; and his mother Linda Parker of Wenatchee, WA.

He is preceded in death by his father Donald Osborn of Hartline, WA.

Is it cloudy? Or is that Terry burning rubber up there?
