Vera Grace Canterbury Bulger

July 14, 1928 - February 12, 2023

East Wenatchee, WA.

Vera Grace Bulger, 94, passed peacefully at home in East Wenatchee with family beside her.

Vera was born July 14, 1928 to parents Artemus Canterbury and Minnie (Cumbo) Canterbury. She joined brothers Vene and Warren, and sisters Julia and Mabel. She learned at an early age how to live frugally and work hard. Living through the depression and World War II taught her to repurpose and reuse possessions. This character trait sustained her through life's joys and challenges. She attended school in Tonasket, WA, and graduated from 8th grade. Vera worked a number of jobs as a young woman. While working at a local department store she met a young man, Roy Allie. Their love blossomed and they married on June 19, 1945. They were married 18 years and had 10 children before she was widowed at age 35. She worked at the warehouse as a fruit sorter to provide for her children. She was a single parent for years. In November 1990 she married Jordon Bulger. They became "snowbirds" for 25 years and traveled to the US, Mexico, and Canada.

Vera grew up in the Free Methodist Church and knew Jesus as savior and Lord. In later life she fellowshiped at Evergreen Baptist Church in Cashmere, WA.

Vera is survived by her children, Carolyn (Lawrence) Rawls, Wayne Allie, Clifford (Karen) Allie, Vernice Watson (Randy Simmonds), Jeanette (Wendell) Dooley, Wanda (Mike) Olmstead, Leroy Allie, and stepson Greg (Susan) Bulger, 23 grandchildren, 48 great-grandchildren, and 10 great, great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her parents, her siblings, husbands Roy Allie and Jordon Bulger, and children Carman, Charles, and Charlene.

A celebration of life will be held at Evergreen Baptist Church, 5837 Evergreen Dr, Cashmere, WA, at 2 pm on Saturday, February 25th. A time of sharing and fellowship will follow.
